The unhappiness of the world is caused by its wickedness. No doubt about that. No doubt that every violation of a law is followed by a penalty. When a person steals, or gets drunk, or hates his neighbor, or takes an undue advantage, or neglects his home, or does anything that he ought not to do, a punishment follows just as certain and as necessarily as when one puts his hand into a flame. And these aggregated penalties in human experience is what constitutes the unhappiness of the world, says the Ohio State Journal. And so all the effort of society and government should be to get rid of their sins. It is only the political economy that is worth a moment's thought. If we act upon the suggestion of the Bible, that "righteousness exalteth a nation," it will do more good than all the civil service reform, all the big canals and all the courts in the land, toward spreading happiness and contentment over the country. No one of any sense doubts it and yet we go on putting salve on pimples and continue the unworthy life that makes the pimples.

"Macbeth" was the play, which had reached the thrilling point where Macbeth goes off to murder the king. On arriving behind the scenes the villain of the piece looked about for the blood in which to dip his hands. Not finding it, he summoned the stage manager, who had forgotten to prepare it. What was to be done? The time had come for him to reappear on the stage. Suddenly, with admirable presence of mind, he smote the manager's nose with all his force, and dipping his hands in the copious stream which flowed out, he dashed on the stage, followed by a roar from the smitten one, just in time with the words: "I have done the deed. Did you not hear a noise?"

Louise De Rougemont, the veteran explorer, who is now in London, has caught the Pole fever. He announces the formation of an expedition to explore the Antarctic regions, which, he says, will start next fall. He has $250,000 guaranteed by Sir Richard Lucas Toth, the Australian millionaire. The expedition will be under the patronage of the Australian commonwealth. De Rougemont has just returned from a three years' Arctic survey in northern Siberia.

THE REASON FEWER

PEOPLE TAKE "SALTS"

We find the use of salts and other harsh physics is becoming less every year because more and more people are using Rexall Orderlies, which we and they firmly believe to be the best bowel remedy ever made. They taste so much like candy that even the children like them. At the same time they act so easily and naturally that there is no purging, griping or pain. They promptly remove the constipation and, by soothing and strengthening the bowels, make it less liable to occur again. We have the utmost faith in them. We know what they are made of and the pleasant, beneficial results that always follow their use.

You needn't take our word for it. If Rexall Orderlies don't help you—if they don't entirely relieve all your bowel troubles—come back and tell us and we'll give back your money. Invest pocket 10, boxes 10c, 25c, 50c. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores, and in this town only of us.—C. P. Chompney, Perryburg, Ohio.

The new water cure for bichloriditis will doubtless prove effectual if the patients are fortunate enough to rally from the water.

JARRED HIS MEMORY

Merrill, Mich., March 14, 1914.

DEAR ED:—I am sending you check for subscription to the Journal.

It certainly stirred my memory when I read the letter of Mr. Lewis in a recent issue of the Journal, describing his fancied trip through the streets of Perryburg and naming the people he met as I was well acquainted with nearly everybody he met.

We had cold weather here during February but the balance of the winter was mild. The past season was a good year for the farmers here as the crops were very good. The most of the corn yielded about 120 bushels of ears per acre; oats 40 to 70 bushels; wheat 20 to 45 bushels; beans 10 to 17 tons; beans 15 to 35 bushels per acre and hay and potatoes were very good.

A large amount of hay is shipped out of this country every year. Much live stock is also shipped away from here.

Yours Truly,
JOHN SCHWIND.

ISCH FOR COMMISSIONER.

In compliance with the earnest solicitation of many friends, Mr. John Isch of Lake township, has decided to seek a nomination for the office of County Commissioner.

He served one term in that office and gave honest, capable and efficient service, but was one of the many who went down in the landslide of 1912.

Mr. Isch is worthy a second term and we hope the people will return him to the office he seeks.
